Supervisor Antonovich made the following statement:

"The Chief Administrative Office, Office of Workplace Programs, which puts on the annual County Volunteer-of-the-Year Awards and Recognition Luncheon, is coordinating the annual wrap-up luncheon and network meeting. This event is for departmental coordinators and other volunteers to review the 2005 event. It will be held Wednesday, September 14, 2005 at the Music Center.

"The program will include discussions on the County's volunteer liability insurance and best volunteer practices used in the public sector. Certificates of commendation also will be presented to four outstanding departmental volunteer coordinators.

"Last year, approximately 42 County and Superior Court departmental volunteer programs reported 4.1 million donated hours with a value of $71 million. This was a tremendous contribution to the County's fiscal well-being.

"The departmental volunteer program coordinators and directors network fulfills the County mission 'to enrich lives through effective and caring service.'"
